Every millimetre has been used to best effect, and the result is a four-bedroom home that feels much larger than its 207sqm. Within the H-shaped footprint are two bathrooms, two living spaces and, a white-on-white kitchen complete with a gleaming tiled splashback. This continues to an outdoor dining area under exposed trusses. At the other end of this pavilion is a comfortable family room. In the main bedroom, which has a walk-in wardrobe and an ensuite, you'll find a tongue-and-groove feature wall in a duck-egg hue. One of the bathrooms includes a soft blue-grey tiled feature wall that brings the standalone bath into focus. A study nook, double garage, sun-trap deck and undeniable street appeal complete the package.
