This West Coast wonder was designed and built with space, entertaining and stunning scenery in mind. An incredible 220sqm of decking provides a generous extension of the 222sqm interior. Now, that's how you strike a balance between indoor and outdoor living.

Every window captures a private native bush view or the panoramic vista up the mighty Buller Gorge. The heritage kitchen, complete with cedar shelves and brass downlights, serves up classic style in a fresh and modern way. The hallway leads to four bedrooms and a secluded alfresco area. Two bathrooms include a master ensuite.
