Light, counters and... action. Who wouldn't want to take over this kitchen with its waterfall-edge island and swathes of bench space bathed in natural light? It's a dream in dark tones and timber and just the place for some serious cooking. That's just one corner of this 202sqm show home, which is full of surprises. Inside are four bedrooms, three bathrooms, two living spaces and a deck that – like the kitchen – is made for entertaining. Step straight out from one of the living areas into the fresh air and fire up the barbecue. Or just enjoy being outside in this coastal suburb of north-west Auckland. Handsome from the outset, the exterior comes together beautifully in dark metal, pale brick, warm cedar and black vertical timber.
